WE NOMINATE

Two able teacher-scholars, William Gordon Bowen and Robert Roswell Palmer, nationally recognized figures in their areas of specialization, who have embarked upon "new careers" as pivotal officers in the on-going development of Princeton University. The 33-year-old Bowen, a highly versatile economist, has assumed his duties as Provost, the University's "second-in-command," while Palmer, award-winning historian and formerly Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences at Washington University (St. Louis, Mo.), has been installed as Dean of the Faculty. Both posts had been held during the past year by recently retired James Douglas Brown, Princeton's "Senior Dean" for 21 years.

As general deputy for President Robert F. Goheen, Bowen, one of the youngest top-level educational administrators in the nation, will give particular attention to the overall academic development of Princeton and coordination in matters of curriculum, staff and policy. His qualifications for the position are suggested by his background and the range of his scholarly interests. Formerly Director of the Graduate Program in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, he was co-author (with William J. Baumol) of last fall's widely acclaimed "Performing Arts: The Economic Dilemma."

Bowen, born in Cincinnati, Ohio, received his A.B. degree from Denison University in 1955 and his doctorate in 1958 from Princeton, where he held a combination of Woodrow Wilson, Danforth and Ford Foundation Fellowships. Appointed to the Princeton Faculty in 1958 as Assistant Professor, he was promoted to Associate Professor in 1961 and to full Professor in 1965. A teacher on both the undergraduate and graduate levels, he has directed advanced courses in both the Department of Economics and the Woodrow Wilson School and has devoted major efforts to developing the penetrating, and extremely popular, beginners' course in Economics, "The Structure and Functioning of the National Economy."

A "tradition" in Princeton's Department of History for almost three decades, and described as one of the "most highly regarded American historical scholars in European centers of learning," Palmer has been "called back" from Washington University where he had gone in 1963 to organize the Office of the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. This 58-year-old native of Chicago, a product of the University of Chicago and Cornell, who first taught at Princeton in 1936, now shoulders the awesome responsibilities of serving as chief administrative officer for a faculty numbering some 875 individuals and research and technical staffs totaling another 600 persons.

Palmer, successor to the late Walter Phelps Hall as the Dodge Professor of History during the period 1952-1963, is the author of the epic work, "The Age of the Democratic Revolution," singled out for both the $3,000 Frederic Bancroft Prize and a special $10,000 award from the American Council of Learned Societies. Another of his major volumes, the 900-page "History of the Modern World," is used as a textbook in colleges and universities throughout the United States. Among his other publications are the "Atlas of World History," a comprehensive reference text combining 60,000 words of text with 132 pages of maps, and "Twelve Who Ruled."

For entering upon demanding, complex and nerve-wracking jobs in an era of change and recurring financial crises in higher education; for their distinctive contributions to the advancement of knowledge; for understanding that the essence of educational administration is the effective support of outstanding teaching; they are our nominees as

"I'VE GOT A JOB"
And Money in the Pocket. Twenty six hard driving and ambitious Princeton teenagers are working this summer at full-time jobs because of a hard driving Princeton woman who is ambitious for them.
The 26 boys and girls, all Negro residents of the John Witherspoon area, all between the ages of 16 and 21, travel each morning by bus to Fort Dix, work a full eight-hour day and return to Princeton by bus to fall into supper and sleep before the next work day begins.

The woman is Mrs. R. E. ("Kathy") Edwards. She has known all of the kids since they were kids, so to speak, and when she says they listen.

The program started with a lucky break: Mrs. Edwards works at Fort Dix and has direct channels to the Director of Civilian Personnel.

That's all very nice as a start. But the program has kept going because of Mrs. Edwards' personal efforts, the eagerness of the kids, and the dedication of the John-Witherspoon Civic Association, especially people like Miss Mary Moore, who co-ordinates Association teen activities, and Bryan V. Moore, whom Mrs. Edwards calls "Mr. John Witherspoon," and Sherman Bates, and other executive committee members.

Up! They call it "Operation Bootstrap."

The youngsters work in the Ammunition Depot, the Fort Dix hospital and the Directorate of Supplies. They get $1.40 an hour. The program, financed with Federal money, started right after the Fourth of July and will end on September 2.

Actually, this is the second summer for "Operation Bootstrap." It started a year ago last February, when about 35 kids, ranging from ten to 22 or so, the kids who congregate on the fence at Clay Street, called on Mrs. Edwards and said, collectively, "You find us a job! We want to DO something!"
"I called their bluff," Mrs. Edwards recalls. "I made them write out resumes; age,

ON THE JOB: Four young commuters from Princeton to Fort Dix emerge from their bus at the end of the working day to greet officers of the John-Witherspoon Citizens Committee. The boys (rear) are Vincent Boone and Thomas Parker. The girls (center) are Irene Thompson and Leola Wooten. Far left are Bryan V. Moore, a member of the John-Witherspoon executive committee, and Mrs. R.E. Edwards, chairman of the John-Witherspoon Citizens Committee. Miss Mary Moore, Teen Co-ordinator for the Committee, checks off names on her clip-board. The bus driver, far right, is Samuel Bowen. More about these young workers in "This Is Princeton."

schooling, what they wanted to do, what they could do. Then I screened the applications, and I conferred with Ken Michael (high school principal), Lewis Cuyler, Mrs. Frank Vu Macka, Miss Mary Moore, people on the John Witherspoon Civic Association executive committee."

Do It Now. "I wanted a crash program. These kids had no experience nothing. I went to Mayor Patterson and asked employers around town to take them on a bet for six weeks or so last summer, min-

"We processed 55 applications, weeding out the kids who lied about their age (the law says 16, but not over 21), the ones who falsified information. We ended up with 48, 26 from right here in the John Witherspoon area, the rest from communities outside."

"But listen I was fed up! I Transport those kids again the way I did last year? No! I went to Mayor Patterson and I said look, I need a bus. The mayor called an official of the Jaycees, because they

Notice to TOWN TOPICS Readers in Princeton

Effective with the issue of Thursday, August 17, a charge of ten cents per copy will be made for TOWN TOPICS at all newsstands in Princeton.

In the two decades since TOWN TOPICS began to publish, all costs have risen steadily, and the luxury of giving away an endless supply of a newspaper running from 40 to 72 pages must in some measure be abated.

As has been the policy for the past 21 years, a copy will continue to be delivered free to every home and place of business with a Princeton address. Newsstand copies will also continue to be made available without charge in nearby communities, where there is no house-to-house delivery.

imum wage, Princeton Hospital, Tenacre, the University, the Seminary, Bamberger's, a few gas stations took them on. The little ones, under the minimum age, did grass cutting, baby sitting."

She also talked with Fort Dix civilian personnel people, and ended up with a total of 17 Princeton youngsters working in offices, laboratories and on the grounds at Fort Dix.

But it was not wholly successful. "I don't want to push a 'Georgia huggy' (wheelbarrow) for a buck and a quart of," said one boy, and quit.

Mrs. Edwards drove all the girls, free. The boys took the commercial bus at $2.40 round trip. All but two stayed right to the end.

Summer passed. This February, she began to get phone calls from kids and parents: "When do we start work this summer?"

About June 1, the Director of Civilian Personnel called Kathy Edwards at her office. "I've got 40 jobs at $1.40 an hour for about two months this summer. Do you want 'em?"
"Give me two days," Mrs. Edwards replied.

Who Wants Work? She came home to Princeton, gathered her executive committee around her, and got on the phone to teenagers and parents.

them back." "Saturday I called Tiger. I asked for a bus just for one week. $200. Well, we had that in the John Witherspoon treasury, so I said to the kids look, your bus fare will be $2 a day, $10 a week. With 26 kids, that made $52 a day, $260 a week."

Yowls of protest went up from some of the young workers. Ten dollars a week when you only earn $140 an hour! But the parents said, "You got them the job, you shouldn't have to provide transportation, too." So with parent cooperation and intricate bookkeeping, the transportation problems were solved.

"It's hard to get up all $2 a day," Mrs. Edwards says sympathetically. Some young passengers are subsidized by their parents, money to be paid back in full. Other kids pay $1.50 a day and Miss Moore keeps strict account of who owes 50¢.

The gross pay is $56 a week. Out of that comes income tax and Social Security and the bus fare, for a hard cash net of about $41.

The first week was OK. One boy said it was just too much too hard "I'm going to quit," he announced. "I don't care," Mrs. Edwards shrugged, "Go ahead and leave: I've got a waiting list a mile long. Plenty of people who want your job." He decided to stay.

Fun On Wheels. The bus provided by Tiger is a big "Cruiser," and loaded with 26 steam full teen-agers, it develops quite a lot of unlooked for auxiliary power.

"I know teen-agers," Mrs. Edwards nods. "Give them an inch, they'll take an el. Going down at 7 in the morning, they're sleepy, but coming back —"

She rode the bus herself the Tuesday of that first week. The kids were making the easy ride, feet up on the seats, soda bottles rolling on the floor, cigarettes ashed every which way. She watched silently for a few miles. Then she moved in.

One passenger was snoring in the back, his feet up on the seat in front of him.

"GET THOSE BLANKETY-BLANK FEET OFF THE SEAT!" Mrs. Edwards suggested.

The sleeping worker woke abruptly and his feet hit the deck. Then Mrs. Edwards walked the aisle, slashing right and left: "You — pick up that soda bottle off the floor. You — watch where you leave those pretzels. You — get that cigarette into an ashtray."

From that day on, a chaperone has ridden the bus daily.

after work until the last of the 26 is on board. Once, when a bus broke down and didn't arrive, she drove the girls home and paid commercial bus fare for the boys.

Kathy Edwards is five feet four only because she wears her hair in a high pompadour. She's made of salt, pepper and vinegar, but there's a strong dash of sugar, too, or why would she care about these kids?

A boy will appear in her office door, sheepish. "Kathy, I forgot my lunch..."

"What do you mean? How can anybody forget a lunch?"

"I dunno — I just did."

Into her bag she goes, to bring out the small change that will buy a vending-machine snack. The Princeton kids pack their own hearty lunches from home because the Fort Dix snack menu isn't enough for working men and women.

Work, Work. And "Operation Bootstrap" kinds work hard. The boys in the ammo depot paint and stock supplies. (Army policy won't allow them to work with any of the explosives). One Princeton youngster was working and learning as a machinist in the depot and doing fine until somebody discovered he had stretched his age — only 15. They bounced him but he'll be back next year.

Both boys and girls work in the hospital. They take blood samples, help to drape patients in surgical clinics, receive medical supplies in the pharmaceutical lab., check in linens, run messages, process the forms for entering and leaving patients. In the pediatrics ward, they help with the children.

Girls only work at the clerical jobs in the Directorate of Supplies. They file, type a little if they know how.

And all of them, every single one of the 26, has plans about spending the pay check. Mrs. Edwards told them in the beginning to save out a dime to call home, 21¢ for cigarettes, 15¢ for a soda. This is on-the-job pocket money, for every day. And the $10 a week for the bus.

The rest of that $44 is warm and filling in the pocket.

"Self-help, motivation, education, economics, these are the vital things for a Negro kid," Mrs. Edwards says. "I see this summer program serving a three-fold purpose: besides money, it gives kids the discipline of a working individual responsibility and it gives them a reference when the next employer says, 'where did you work before?'"

And, as Mrs. Edwards points out, it keeps them off the streets. How can you roam the street at night when you get home at 6 and have to get up at 7 the next morning?

How do the kids feel about it? Not one of the 26 has dropped out.

DRIVER FINED $200 On Revoke Charge. Harmon Hubble, 21 175 Nassau Street, was fined $200 and $5 court costs Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for driving while on a revoked list.

Robert J. Galick, 38, The Great Road, paid $16 for speeding. A careless driving charge lodged by Marvin Trotman against Susan B. Clark, 24, 70 Dods Lane, was dismissed.

WHO'S GOING TO RUN?

Deadline Thursday. The Democrats have a candidate for mayor to run against Mayor Henry S. Patterson, but at press time, he was still not quite willing to say "yes." He doesn't have long to make up his mind, because the deadline for petition filing is this Thursday at 4 p.m.

Democratic candidates are scheduled to be introduced at a meeting Wednesday night. Borough Council candidates, according to Edward Sweeney, president of the Democratic Club, will be James Andrews, 43 Hibben Road, and Wilbert Brooks, 188 John Street. Their Republican opponents, announced last week, are to be incumbent Councilman Alan Carrick and Fred R. Peterson.

Split down the spine a few months ago, the Democrats in Princeton will nevertheless run a united slate. "We do not anticipate separate candidates in the Borough," commented Rowland Cox, vice-president for the Borough of the new Princeton Community Democratic Association. The Township has always been in the pocket of the new group. Officers of the two halves of the Democratic party met together and divided the Borough's nine districts between them for the election of Mercer County Democratic Committeemen and Committeewomen.

The older Democratic organization will run its unopposed candidates in Districts Three, Four, Five, Six, Seven and Nine. The new group—more or less—will run candidates in One, Two and Eight.

Those running are: District One, Minot C. Morgan Jr. and Mrs. Robert A. Lively; District Two, Mrs. Zaida Dillon and Edmund J. Carroll (Mr. Carroll is frequently identified with the older group); District Eight, Archibald S. Alexander and Mrs. Blanche M. Howley.

District Three: Philip Carroll and Mrs. Robert McAvonia; District Four: Mrs. Coan and Robert Davison; District Five: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ferrara; District Six: Miss Mary Perone and Wilbert Brooks; District Seven: Mrs. Bessie Christenson and Edward Scavella; District Nine:

They will serve as junction and inspection points on lines connecting Seminary buildings and the new power plant. Completion of the system, scheduled for September 1, has been delayed by frequent rain. (Staff Photo)

Martin J. Lombardo and Miss Audrey Mason.

Township Republicans are running incumbent William L. Wilson for Township Committee as well as Harry J. Volwieder, appointed last month to serve until December 31 in place of David Thompson, who has resigned from Committee. The Democrats have not announced a candidate to oppose Mr. Wilson.

POST OFFICE NEXT Special Meeting Tuesday. Will Princeton have a new post office building on North Harrison Street

The question, which has been asked before, will be asked again next Tuesday when opponents and proponents meet before the Township Zoning Board in a special 7:30 p.m. session in Township Hall.

The Thanet corporation, owner of the five-acre post office plot on North Harrison, originally asked the Board to recommend that Township Committee grant a use variance.

However, last week, Garrett M. Heber, attorney for Thanet, submitted an alternate, asking for a special permit. The Township's zoning ordinance

Sweeney Decides "No"

Edward J. Sweeney, Mercer County Democratic Assemblyman who lives at 181 North Harrison, has decided not to run for his fifth term in the state Legislature.

The decision was announced by Joseph S. Bash, County Democratic Chairman, who said it was influenced by the Assemblyman's ill health.

Mr. Sweeney is president of the Princeton Democratic Association, the so-called "older" group with its center of organization at the Chestnut Street Firehouse.

"I had reached the end of the line in the Assembly," Mr. Sweeney said, in commenting on his withdrawal from the race. "There really was no place else for me to go in the party. Now I want to see a younger man get in there."

doesn't mention a post office specifically, but it does say that public utilities can be given a special permit. It's up to the Zoning Board to decide whether a post office building represents a public utility and is therefore entitled to the special permit.

Thanet filed its alternate just in case the Zoning Board decided the corporation should have asked for a special permit all along.

If the Board gives Thanet a special permit, the post office still has to meet requirements of parking set-back and so on, but the question does not have to go to Township Committee.

The hearing has been set for an early hour because George Pelletieri, representing protesting neighbors of the site, warned the Board that testimony might consume four or five hours.

HOUSING?

Plans Move Forward. Three church groups in Princeton have agreed to serve as joint sponsors of a non profit corporation whose purpose would be to construct low middle income housing in Princeton under the new state law.

The three churches are Witherspoon Presbyterian, Unitarian and the Society of Friends. Other churches and organizations in Princeton have expressed interest in joining these three as sponsors, according to David Hapgood, a member of the informal committee set up to discuss the state's law with potential sponsors.

Under terms of the law, housing is built and managed by a corporation — as yet unformed in Princeton — which assumes entire financial liability.

This corporation must have at least one sponsor — church, university, civic group — who takes no financial responsibility but guarantees to the state the continuity of the corporation's board of directors.

The law states that municipal governing bodies must formally declare a state of need for such housing. Mr. Hapgood said that the informal committee would probably wait until mid-August to see whether other sponsors volunteer, and then approach Township Council about the required resolution.

The committee consists of two architects, Alfred Busselle and John Diehl, and Jackson English, James Floyd, George Alexander and Mr. Hapgood.

CAR RUNS OVER GIRL

Her Condition Critical. A nine-year-old French girl, who was visiting Princeton with her parents, was critically injured Tuesday morning when she was pinned under a car in the driveway at 102 Lafayette Road.

Florence Bineau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michel Bineau, who live at 76 Valley Road, was rushed by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Hospital shortly after 10, suffering with internal injuries. Her condition was described by a hospital spokesman as critical. A team of two doctors performed an emergency tracheotomy and she was admitted to the intensive care unit.

When Borough police arrived, they found Florence pinned under the right front wheel. They had to lift the car to free her.

From all outward appearances, police said, the girl was dead. There was no heartbeat, no pulse, no breathing.

However, P.I. Allen Benkert quickly cleared the victim's air passage and applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. She responded with a heartbeat and a few short gasping breaths. Assisting P.I. Benkert were P.I. William Hunter and Lt. Francis Maguire.

Police said that Mr. and Mrs. Bineau and their two children spent the night at the home of Edward Simpson, 102 Lafayette, and had planned to leave by boat Wednesday for France. All are French citizens. A friend police said, had loaned them the car which rolled over Florence.

Police said that there were no adults who witnessed the mishap. It is still being investigated by P.I. Benkert.

SQUIBB MOVE APPROVED

Residents Plan Appeal, E. B. Squibb & Sons' plan to build a research complex in Lawrence Township finally got the green light from the Township Committee last Thursday night, but the controversial zoning change, which makes the move possible, now must stand up in court.

After a series of lengthy and heated sessions stretching over the last two months, during which time the original ordinance was defeated and had to be revised, the Committee voted, 41 to bring Squibb in. A minimum of four votes was required by law, since 20% of the Township's residents had signed a petition opposing the change.

Approval was insured however, when Republican Committeeman Edward T. Converse joined Democrats Mayor Herman W. Hansler, Lloyd A. Carver and Charles E. Connell Jr. Republican Daniel W. Williamson cast the dissenting vote.

In a meeting a month ago both Republicans had voted against the zoning change.

July produced enough precipitation to float almost anything. Rainfall for the month was more than double the normal amount, and it rained on the average a hour every other day.

Showers continue to be a part of the picture—in fact, August was less than two hours old Tuesday when one of them arrived on the scene. Temperatures will remain a bit below normal (July followed that pattern, however damp), but the humidity will stay with us for the immediate future.

forcing the ordinance to be sent back to the planning board for revision.

Lawsuit Planned. Residents of North Lawrence who have opposed the change from the beginning, have not given up. Trenton attorney David Daitz, counsel for the group, is preparing a case to go before the Superior Court of New Jersey. The case must be filed within 45 days.

Explaining his affirmative vote, Mr. Converse said he felt the Squibb proposal would have a beneficial impact on the Township. "I think it is an attractive rateable," he said. "The majority of people in Lawrence wanted Squibb."

Mr. Williamson said he did not consider the net tax benefits to merit the zoning change. He pointed out the costs of additional road construction and a sewage system as part of the increased services the township would have to provide. He also commented that the children of Squibb employees would cause a faster rate of increase in the township school population.

Having cleared this hurdle, Squibb now need only to have its specific site development plans approved by the township. It hopes to break ground this fall on the 213-acre tract located on the Lawrenceville Road near Province Line Road.

One of the main arguments against Squibb's move to this site was that 145 acres had already been set aside for Green Acres. The Township's request for state funds had been approved, but the bid for federal money was denied.

Mrs. W. C. Myers, Fackler Road, Lawrence Township

wrote to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, asking her for help in obtaining the funds. Mrs. Johnson replied through her secretary, saying that she "hoped some means could be found to preserve the tract, but that she had no control over federal funds."

DAY CARE APPROVED. Center Gets $17,000. Princeton's Community Action Council has received $17,000 from the Federal government for the establishment of a day-care center for young children in Princeton.

The Council asked for $30,000 to operate a center for 12 months, and received $17,000 for seven months. David Hapgood, secretary of the Council, said that the group hopes to open the center this September for about 15 boys and girls. The teacher has not yet been selected.

A public meeting will be held Thursday, August 10, at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church to explain the Center, and all parents who think they might be eligible, are invited to attend.

The Center will be held in the First Baptist Church from approximately 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, depending more or less on the need of working mothers whose children attend. The age bracketing will be 2-5, and the Council hopes to care for some young-year-old public school kindergartners who will be in the four-garden in the mornings.

Low income families may send children free of charge. There is no clear-cut definition of "low income," Mr. Hapgood said. The national definition is $3,000 income per year, plus $500 per child; however, this is sometimes raised for high cost of living towns like Princeton.

WHO IS THE GOP FRONTRUNNER? Nixon, says Bill Miller (right), while Bill Lombardo names a darkhorse — Barry Goldwater. For the choices of other Princetonians, see below.

Question of the Week

Question: As of now, who do you feel is the leading Republican candidate for president?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Bill Lombardo, Trenton, draftsman for Burton F. Weisbecker, 10 Nassau Street; Barry Goldwater. He's just sitting back and not saying anything. When he does say something, he makes sense. He's calmed down quite a bit. People seem to be listening to him now. I guess I'm just a diehard. He should have been elected three years ago.

William Miller, Hopewell, architect for Burton F. Weisbecker: I still think Nixon. I just think he has more experience, he's more of a statesman. This is what we need as a president—a statesman not a politician. I'm an independent voter but I would vote for Nixon over Johnson.

Frank Nini, 34 1/2 Witherspoon Street, retired: I think Rockefeller regardless of whether he says he doesn't want to run. I feel he's the strongest candidate by far, stronger than Romney. All his hollering he won't run. He'll run. Nixon doesn't have a chance.

George W. Manolakis, 64 William Street, businessman: I'd say either Nixon or Reagan of California at this time. I feel Reagan showed great strength when he was elected by three million plus votes over Governor Brown. He was very popular as a movie star. I feel a lot of people often don't look at a man's experience per se but look at his popularity in another field. He showed he's popular in California, and he probably would be popular nationwide. Nixon has already been a two-time failure so I would say Reagan has a definite edge. This doesn't mean I'm a Republican; I'm an independent. I vote for the man.

William Perlman, Robbinsville, farmer: If I had any choice, I'd prefer Rockefeller. He has the experience and background, more so than Romney or Reagan. Nixon? He just doesn't go with me.

Mrs. Robert Wells, 164 Nassau Street, secretary: Rockefeller — although he still doesn't want it. I feel he's more liberal and realistic about situations that arise today.

Jay Sarton, Dodge - Osborne Hall, University senior and engineer research assistant: I don't think anyone has a clear-cut edge, but I would say Mr. Romney — by default, if for no other reason. There's not too much to choose from at this point. I think the riots may have hurt him a little bit. There a question of whether he waited too long before bringing in troops. It wouldn't detract from him as far as I'm concerned but I imagine it might some groups.

John Cashill, 14 Clearview Avenue, Food Services, Princeton University: I would say Romney. Possibly because he's in the news more than any of the others. I think until the recent race riots he was by far the leading candidate. I think the riots will have to be taken into consideration now. How much it will have hurt him, I don't know.

Henry Melody, 151 Hamilton Avenue, Army Sgt., Ft. Dix: I would say right now George Romney. I just favor him. I think the others have all tried and lost. Reagan is inexperienced and Nixon is already a two time loser. I think Romney is probably the best man.

Mrs. Nancy Kelly, 221-C King Street, graduate student, education: I'd like to see Rockefeller but I suspect Nixon is probably the leading candidate. He still seems to be in all the big Republican sessions and is one of the main policy makers.

His trip abroad would give an appearance of being in a position to make some judgments on foreign policy. He seems to have paid more attention to foreign policy than the others. His experience has been at the national level not just the state level.

B. A. Morris, Kingston Terrace Apartments retired, Princeton University: I think at the present moment, they don't have one. I really don't think so. Nixon at one time was a clever man but he just doesn't have it now. Senator Javits of New York sure has something on the ball. I wonder if they have considered him? I'll tell you one thing: it is going to take someone who is not afraid. President Johnson is doing the best he can with what backing he's got.

Robert Walton, 19 Merritt Drive, Lawrence Township, teacher: I still think Romney because despite what President Johnson did in calling in the paratroopers people who would vote for him probably would not consider this a weakness on his part but realize the situation that had come about. It was obvious the police could not handle the riots. I think Romney is still in the driver's seat at this point — although he would not be my choice. Personally, of all the Republican candidates, I would prefer Rockefeller.

Miss Rita Shapiro, Trenton, student, Boston University: I would say Romney. I don't feel the voters are capable of electing Reagan twice. It was bad enough electing him governor. It isn't that Romney is great it's just that none of the others have any great attraction.

David Helmsold, Trenton, salesman, English Shop and Rider College student: In my own mind of the people who have committed themselves and I base this on Rockefeller's statement that he definitely will not run — I would favor a liberal such as Romney or Lindsay. At the moment I'm pro-Romney and anti-Reagan to the point I would vote for Johnson. What I'm afraid is the Republicans will split again with the ex-Goldwater conservatives on one side and the liberals on the other and it will end up Johnson again . . . unless they can unify behind a middle of the road candidate. At Washington Crossing, "Waltz of the Toreadors," the Anouilh satire, will be given this Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. and rain dates have been scheduled for any performance wasched out.

Leo Cohen is directing the Pennington Players in this production. Several members of the Princeton Community Players are in the cast, starting with Rene Stein, who plays the General's wife; Beverly Hagy who plays his mistress and Dick Hagy who plays the secretary. Trevor Owens is Dr. Bonfant and Lois Cohen is "Madame."

"The play is a satire on nationalism and idealism and the shallow hypocrisies that sustain them both in the face of even immediate realities," suggests Mr. Cohen.

"Our poor General (to be portrayed by Dave Boroughs), cleaves to his wife although he hates her and, worse yet, is bored by her. His almost-mistress is covered with romantic embroidery; beneath it all she's just a second national interest heard from wooing, scheming, embroiling, and all to no clear purpose. And where is the Author through all of this? On stage, in the form of Dr. Bonfant, logical, well-satisfied with all the goings-on and clearly enjoying it all thoroughly."

Other members of the Pennington Players cast are Pam Maroshek, Debbie Tienkin, Eric Wildegrube, Karen Niski and Sue Solfert.

THE PLAYHOUSE
Divorce, American Style (starts Wednesday), Dick Van Dyke and Debbie Reynolds play for laughs instead of tears as they portray an unhappily married couple, who separate, get divorced and then get back together again in the usual manufactured Hollywood ending.

Backing up Van Dyke and Miss Reynolds is a group of other big names. Jason Robards plays the divorced friend who tries to match up Van Dyke with his former wife. Jean Simmons in a valiant attempt to get himself off the expensive alimony book. Van Johnson is the big-hearted car dealer who is the unsuspecting key figure in a plot by Roberts and Miss Simmons to solve Van Dyke's alimony problem.

The film appears to have a serious message to offer about the troubles with divorce, and attempts to get it across via comedy. The result is partially successful.

BUNDLE UP
 Wool Time Coming. Of course, it's winter! You mean you hadn't noticed? If you haven't, it's because you haven't looked lately at The English Shop windows, full of cuddly warmth from Pendleton, Bobbie Brooks, Braemar, Casuals Unlimited and whoever else they've got in residence this fall.

There's something about these rich autumn clothes that makes even art nouveau look pallid indeed. Take the palette used by Bobbie Brooks for the juniors as an example. Bobbie has hot lime tweed as the basis for a plaid overlaid with the russet and gold of October hills. Solid and striped sweaters pick up all the colors, individually. (Wait 'til you see the pullover with the terribly low, low belt!) Slacks, skirt, sweaters—all co-ordinate in the Bobbie B line.

Pendleton mixes and matches colors like Jack Frost himself, but the colors speak softly, not with autumn's usual glory-shout. Tweeds, checks and plaids have been mixed, matched, paired, combined and co-ordinated until you find yourself dizzy from turning them over in your eye. Here's a rack of autumn mist: choose a three-piece walking suit with stadium weather in mind. It's deep mauve and olive plaid, the same plaid you'll find in Pendleton's little suit, in lighter weight.

The mauve appears alone in a classic topcoat and a jumper with leather shoestring belt or a short-sleeved dress or a pair of slacks. Or would you prefer the slacks in the mauve-olive plaid?

A tweedy walking suit in brown has a hint of snow in its white flecking. A topcoat matches if it's really a cold day. An ensemble has a slim line of a dress topped with a jacket cut with slightly stand-

Got a Barrel?

If you have, you know how important it is to have the barrel measured correctly. After all, the beer content may be at stake. Anyhow, if you need a barrel-measurer, they have one at The Black Kettle Antoque Shop in Hopewell. It's a wooden caliper, made with loving care by a skilled woodworker who gave it more attention than mere utility requires. It is an open square of dark wood, and it would be striking indeed on the wall of an engineer's study. Maybe it was also used to measure logs. Great big logs.

up collar. Comes in camel, deep claret or navy. Windowpane bars have been laid in yellow and white across deep navy in a pair of slacks, a vest, an A-line skirt and a V neck separate jacket.

To go with and under all this, there are turtle-necks and mock turtle-necks in that wonderful mauve and brass and navy...

But suppose you don't want a classic? English Shop takes you into an alcove full of double-knits in hot stripes of fuschia and orange. Here's a navy knit, long sleeved, with hot pink banding the top of the sleeve, skirting the neckline and making two pocket streaks. Comes in short sleeves with square pink-banded neckline, too.

And look at this pumpkin! It has a "belt" of wide knit stripes with a perfectly straight-faced buckle.

English Shop's coats come in kelly chinchilla wool, so bright it leaps off the rack, or stone grey suede so soft you can hardly hear it speak. But this suede coat, imported from France, has been so exquisitely trimmed with grey shearling lamb, so artfully styled with its crenelated shearing band around the bottom, up the front, around the sleeves, that you'll forget any other coat exists. It's a luxury design, and worth every franc.

Braemar combines lambs wool skirts with lambswool sweaters in "Almond haze" (rose); "Bracken" (gold); "Reseda" (lime); "Eggshell" (robin); "Blue melange" (tweed); or "Apricot" (well... apricot).

And if you really think wool is a bit warm, look at English Shop's transitionals in rayon-cotton. Most are two-piece wash-wear, done in shirtwaist or shift styles.

MAKE, OR HAVE MADE

Curtains, Bedspreads... If you want to make drapes this fall, The Fabric Center on Witherspoon Street will show you exactly how to do it, how to use the tapes and hooks, how to cut and sew, how to line.

If the prospect terrifies you, Fabric Center will do the job for you, even come to your home with samples. And if custom-made drapes or slipcovers are beyond your budget, Fabric Center will show you a collection of fabrics which can be made up at about 20-30% per cent less than the usual custom items.

The Witherspoon Street shop is particularly excited this Fall with its collection of casement drapery fabric, a combination of raw silk and linen in exciting, alternating stripes of solid and open work. These will be the drapes you hang in front of a casement window, so you can see out but nobody can see in. The shadow patterns cast by the lacy texture are delightful to watch.

Fabric Center has these casements, 45-54 inches wide, from $1.79 to $3.98 a yard, in ombre, tweeds, or solids.

Did you know burlap came in 45 colors? It's 54 inches wide, available in colors like fuschia, canary, lemon, claret, navy, natural—well, they're all there, so you can see for your self.

For more elegance, you'll want one of the Waverly Schumacher fabrics, and the store has about a hundreds bolts, priced at $1.98 and $2.98 a yard. To go with mahogany,

there is the soft bouquet of "Charing Cross." For a cheerful country room, there's your old friend, the Meissen blue Ocean, done in claret, teal or avocado as well as blue. An unusual multi-color toile may suit your Provincial Furniture, or the "Adams House" documentary may be what your Early American room needs. All these have solid fabrics to pick up the colors.

Modern will choose Fabric Center's pure linens, like the one in varying-width stripes of natural and dark natural, or the charming design of stylized russet flowers blooming in a row against a natural background.

If you need a non-fabric, here's a group of Lattewood blinds made of bamboo strips mixed with fabrics of various

BALLET PERFORMED
African Style. Bright colors, throbbing drums and agile, attractive dancers decorate the stage of the Lambertville Music Circus tent this week in "Les Ballets Africains," a musical review from Guinea.
The company, which was formed after the African republic achieved independence in 1958, scored a success in New York and moved the New York Times to call it "a distinguished, stylish and tremendously exciting dance company."
Performances begin at 8:30 Tuesday through Friday, at 6 and 9:45 on Saturday and 7:30 on Sunday. There is a 2 p.m. matinee on Wednesday.

"SHE LOVES ME"
At Bucks County, "She Loves Me," the Jerry Bock-Sheldon Harnick musical, will play at the Bucks County Playhouse through August 19. Jeannie Carson and Biff McGuire will play the leading roles.
Also in the production, which was directed by Milton Lyon will be Broadway veterans Larry Kert and Rae Allen. Liz Redfield is responsible for the musical direction.
Following "She Loves Me" on August 21 will be "The Ninety-Day Mistress," a new comedy with Broadway aspirations by J. J. Coyle. Martin Milner and Ruth Ford will star, while Philip Rose will direct.

colors and textures. If you need a trimming, there are yards and yards, either in stock or to choose from in swatch-books.

One of the autumn prizes at Fabric Center is a new group of drapery hardware pieces, quite different from the usual traverse rods you're accustomed to. The most striking has an Italian motif, made like a square rod in black matte wrought iron, with spear ends. The drapes hang from hooks below the rod, so you can see it fully all the time.
Another rod, again Italianate in feeling, is antiqued brass, fashioned like a horizontal fluted column. It comes in a standard brass finish, too, and also in antiqued white.

And if you have just a simple country cottage, there's the classic unpainted wooden hardware: pole ends, brackets, wooden rings. They tell us at Fabric Center that you can get a wonderful stain on these unpainted wooden pieces by dipping them in strong tea.

SPINDLE BROKEN?
Try Black Kettle. In the Black Kettle antique shop on Hopewell's Broad Street, there's a carton with a painted label: "Spinning Wheel Parts."
There is also, across the big, pleasant room a handsome collection of old tools including planes, brace-and-bits, long handled tongs and even a small clothes wringer.

In the back of the shop, Mr. Moore has arranged a group of pine and cherry dining-room pieces with a lovely worn old rug—as delightful a dining-room as you'll find.
The table is a drop-leaf cherry measuring 19 inches wide with both leaves down—just the right scale for a small house. It has unusual reeded legs, by the way.

The two-piece hutch, from Pennsylvania, is good, four-square Dutch pine with no nonsense about curves and spirals. It has glass doors to display your best ironstone.

The real piece in the dining arrangement is a cherry Chipendale clothespress from about 1780. Nicely proportioned, with solid, paneled doors, it has brass "H" hinges and three drawers below the doors.

Two small rockers, priced at about $20, are nice for small and rocking budgets. One has a tall ladder back. The other, smaller, was apparently a straight chair originally. You can see where the rockers were added on.

Smaller treasures in The Black Kettle start with a splendid Staffordshire tureen bearing the registry 1849. It has an usual smoky grey design of classic temples and Elysian fields. All, presumably, full of soup.
A white, "wedding-ring" tea set has the classic gold band around all 12 cups—and good, big, straight-sided cups they are—the tea plates, the hospitable teapot and the collection of shallow bowls and cake servers.

CINDERELLA IN THE PLAYGROUND: The Princeton High School summer players last week presented "Cinderella" at five of Princeton's playgrounds. to the house they shared a round 7:30. Mr. Furnisch had been living there for the summer. The pond, located near the house, is about 35 feet wide.
Mr. Furnisch was pronounced dead at Princeton Hospital. Dr. Matthew R. Lapa, deputy county physician, was asked to perform the autopsy.

and Mrs. N. Brown Elmes, 303 Kingston Terrace Apts, Kings Petrella, 112 Linden Lane, both on July 20.

APARTMENTS ENTERED
On Witherspoon Street. Apartments on the second and third floors of 17 Witherspoon Street were entered Monday during the day.

Police said an ice pick or similar instrument was used to unlock a screen door to the second floor apartment of Mrs. Itay Brown, a patient at Princeton Hospital. Her son, Marvin, discovered the break in.

An hour later at 4:50 p.m., police received a call from Mrs. Raymond Lane, reporting the entry of her third-floor apartment. Her door had been forced. Police said that apparently nothing was taken from Mrs. Lane's apartment. "They were probably looking for cash," said Chief Peter J. McCrohan.

It is not known if anything was taken from Mrs. Brown's apartment. The bedroom in each had been ransacked, according to Ptl. Stanley Donald, who investigated.

Mrs. Edith Guertler, 222 Ewing Street, called police last week to report that a purse belonging to her daughter, Marilyn, had been stolen from a kitchen table. Inside the purse was a wallet that had contained $25, Mrs. Guertler said.

It Rains Indoors, Too

As if there hadn't been enough rain this summer outdoors . . .

A few minutes after 9 Tuesday morning, it started to rain inside Princeton Hospital. Someone had filled the hospital incinerator a little too high and the extra heat was sufficient to set off its sprinkler system, which in turn sounded an alarm in police headquarters.

A few minutes later, hospital officials were able to remove some of the excess trash and the shower was over.

TWO. AT THE CATACOMB

Sketches. Guitarist. Young Princeton actors will perform in sketches by Jules Pfeiffer this Sunday at the Catacomb, Trinity Church.

The sketches will be given twice, at 9:15 and at 10:15 p.m., under the direction of Sandy Bowdish. Each is a brief Pfeifferesque commentary on American culture.

Three times this Thursday evening, the young guitarist David A. Greene will play at the Catacomb. He will play at 9, 10 and 11 p.m.

This will be Mr. Greene's second appearance in Princeton (he was here last summer) and a brief interruption in his film-making career: he is now engaged in making a feature length film. Mr. Greene is a graduate of the drama school at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

AUCTION SCHEDULED

By Rocky Hill Group. The Rocky Hill Community Group is asking for donations of furniture, paintings, appliances and other items for its second Bid 'n' Buy auction.

Last year's affair was most helpful to the non-profit group, which is putting the proceeds toward restoring a 200-year old house for use as a community center.

The auction, plus refreshments, a baked goods table, hooks and more will be held on the grounds of the former Hercules Powder plant on Crescent Avenue from 10 to 6 p.m. on Saturday, September 16. Miss Edna Robotil, of Robotil's Delicatessen or Mrs. Charles D. Allen, Montgomery Road, Rocky Hill, will arrange to pick up items.

A NEW IDEA FOR AN OLD CANAL: Miss Margaret D. Woodring, a specialist in environmental design at Rutgers and a Princeton resident, discusses her proposal for a cross-state park along the Delaware-Raritan Canal with John Benad at the bridge tenders' house in Griggstown, which he rents from the state.

STATE PARK PROPOSED

Along Banks of Canal. Once a busy inland waterway for barge traffic and now enjoyed mainly by fishermen and swimmers, the Delaware Raritan Canal has become the center of a unique proposal, designed to take advantage of the canal's picturesque route through the heartland of New Jersey.

The idea, as advanced by Miss Margaret D. Woodring, 100 Hodge Road, is to create a park along the entire length of the canal. The recreation area would stretch from Bull Island on the Delaware down to Trenton, and across the state to Perth Amboy and the sea.

"It's really a case of making use of what we have," says Miss Woodring, an architect and extension specialist in environmental design at the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science. "I never understood why the canal in New Hope is so beautifully developed for recreation, while the canal on the New Jersey side lies all but abandoned."

Not for long, however, if Miss Woodring has her way. She is presently working on a plan which she and the Cooperative Extension Service hope will fortify a formal proposal.

In support of her idea Miss Woodring points out that the state already owns land along the canal, including bridge tenders' houses built in the 1830s which could be restored for rest stops, meeting rooms, snack bars and even hostels. Other areas could be purchased or leased for what Miss Woodring calls "nodes of interest," - tennis courts, boat rental areas and picnic grounds.

Lands already publicly owned include Bull Island, for example, at the head of the canal, where the state has 50 acres, the Six Mile Run reservoir at Blackwell's Mill, Washington Crossing Park and the area of the tidal dam at Crab Island near Perth Amboy.

Miss Woodring also has ideas for keeping costs to the state down. She says that garden clubs, 4H groups, scouts and other organizations could take part in "work play" projects, such as planting trees, shrubs and flowers and erecting small structures.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

By Talent Producer. Ted Bartheld, producer of talent shows, has announced he will hold his first auditions this Sunday and next from 2 to 5 at his home, 114 Witherspoon Street.

The auditions will be limited to those who can provide their own musical accompaniment, until a larger place and a piano are available. Any performer under the age of 21 must be accompanied by a parent. Mr. Bartheld says he is "open to any suggestions from interested persons."

CARNIVAL CONTINUES

At Legion Post. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday will be the final three nights of the annual carnival sponsored by Hopewell Valley American Legion Post 339. Admission is free, and there is ample parking available on the Post grounds.

The carnival will be held from 7 to midnight each evening. Beside dance music, there will be rides for youngsters, amusements and refreshments.

KAMMLER AGENCY SOLD
To Robert Eldridge. Cory Kammler, owner of Kammler Buick Pontiac, Route 206, has sold his leadership to Robert Eldridge, former sales manager of Cathcart Pontiac, Trenton. Mr. Eldridge will take over August 15.

The new firm will be known as Eldridge Buick Pontiac Company. At one time, Mr. Eldridge's father was part owner of the now defunct Stacy Trent Pontiac in Trenton.

Mr. Kammler moved into his all-brick showroom, which he later expanded, in August 1960. Its location on Route 206 triggered a move of five more new car dealers to that site: Princeton Motors, Prince Chevrolet, Nassau-Conover Ford, Laliere Kane (now Cregar Motors) and Nini Chrysler Plymouth.

In leasing all its facilities to Mr. Eldridge, Mr. Kammler retains ownership of the buildings. His future plans are in complete, according to a spokesman.

ROSZEL NAMED VP

At Bowers & Sons, Malcolm B. Roszel of Dutch Neck has been elected vice president of Lewis C. Bowers and Sons, 341 Nassau Street.

Mr. Roszel is a graduate of Trenton State College and has been mayor of West Windsor Township for many years. He has been associated with Bowers since 1946.

RCA PROMOTES TWO

In Patent Division, John V. Regan of 4 Lemore Circle, Rocky Hill, has been appointed director of patent operations by the Radio Corporation of America. He will be in charge of RCA domestic and foreign patent activities.

RCA also announced the promotion of Harold Christoffersen as manager, domestic patents, the position formerly held by Mr. Regan. All RCA patent operations are headquartered at its David Sarnoff Research Center in Princeton.

After joining RCA in 1952 as a patent searcher in Washington, D. C., Mr. Regan was transferred to Camden and then to Princeton in 1958. He was appointed manager, domestic patents — Electronic Data Processing in 1964.

He holds degrees in electrical engineering from Tufts College and George Washington University. He and his wife, the former Mary F. Doherty of Boston, have five sons and three daughters.

Mr. Christoffersen was transferred to Princeton in 1958 after starting with RCA the year before as a member of the patent staff in Camden. He received a B.S. degree in electrical engineering from Rutgers University in 1956 and an LL.B. degree from Seton Hall in 1965.

From 1944-46 and 1951-52, Mr. Christoffersen served in the Navy as an aviation electronics technician. He and his wife and son live at 53 Merritt Drive, Nassau Estates.

STAFF SHIFTS ANNOUNCED

By ORC. Opinion Research Corporation has announced several promotions and transfers on its professional staff.

Miss Nancy Callanan of 159 Spruce Street has been promoted to research assistant from field representative for ORC Service Corporation. Robert Reid of Jamesburg has been transferred from Crew Supervisor of ORC service to specifications writer for the Data processing department.

Also promoted was Miss Patricia J. Underwood of Hopewell, formerly an assistant survey director, who has been named research assistant. John Walkly has been advanced from assistant survey director to associate survey director. He lives in Hightstown.

Oliver Taylor of Plainsboro has just joined ORC as an associate survey director. Mr. Taylor recently earned his M.B.A. degree in market engineering from Boston University.

Post 76 Praised, Criticized.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I enclose a copy of a letter which I sent to the American Legion, Post No. 76, in Princeton. It relates to the means of celebrating the National Day of Independence. Perhaps it could serve to promote a little thinking on the subject, and on related items of even greater importance. In any case, I release it to you for publication, if you wish to do so.

I consider the apparent lack of patriotism in so many quarters as a national disgrace. Any effort directed toward a greater appreciation of a healthy attitude on this matter would seem to be highly in order.

Also, it seems obvious to me that the Princeton community could be well-served by a well-trained and professionally-directed band.

FRED C. WEGEL

Red Bank
(Following is the text of Mr. Wegel's letter to Post 76).
Gentlemen:

This letter is written for several reasons.
First of all I want to congratulate the American Legion for promoting the display of the nation's flag for this month for reasons of patriotism. It is a disgrace that on Independence Day for example, the number of flags displayed in Princeton (and probably elsewhere in the state) was only in the order of perhaps 20 percent of the total which could have been displayed.

I feel that the American citizen should be proud enough to display his country's flag on all national holidays; and certainly Independence Day, our most important holiday, should be well-remembered and considered with reverence and esteem!

Secondly, and in connection with the celebration of Independence Day, I want to express my appreciation for the local Post's exhibition of fireworks in Palmer Stadium on Saturday (having been rained out on the fourth itself); I consider fireworks an essential part of any Independence Day program.

Incidentally they would also be appropriate on the 18th of April, or on the 19th, even more so, and I suggest that you consider doing something about this. The Battle of Lexington was the initiative for the structure which became our country. It deserves recognition!

In third place I ask a question: What on earth prompted you to stage the neo-vaudeville performance of fourth-class hula dancers, and then follow this up with a "rock 'n roll" quintet as a prelude to the fireworks program. And then to blast everyone's ears with monstrous amplification for thirty unending and unendurable minutes certainly indicated first-class mismanagement somewhere.

I haven't heard from the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the capitol of Harrisburg, but I'm sure he could have heard the proceedings from Palmer Stadium had he opened his window! I never saw an amplifier without a gain control, nor do I understand why someone did not pull the power cord. I would appreciate some explanation!

My fourth point is to suggest that you provide an honest-to-goodness brass band for future Independence Day celebrations as a prelude to the fireworks. Perhaps it would be in order to establish such a band for weekly programs somewhere in Princeton. Red Bank has such a band and it gives a very good account of itself every week on Wednesday evenings at the Marine Park. It numbers 20 men and two women. It includes 3 tubas, 4 trumpets, 2 French Horns, 2 trombones, and 2 drummers. You might not attain to the

U.S. Near East Policy Unit

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is a copy of a letter mailed to President John Sun, Secretary of State Dean
Rusk, New Jersey Senators
Clifford Case and Harrison
Williams and Rep. Frank Thompson Jr.:

We, the undersigned United States citizens of the Princeton community wish to record our distress and disagreement with the handling of the Near East crisis by the United States Government and the American news media. In this important area Americans long have enjoyed cordial cultural relations and prestige and more recently have acquired strategic interests, economic and political,
that vitally affect the United States security and responsibilities for world well-being.

The present Near East confusion and one-sided American response are fast destroying past achievements in mutual understanding and hope for any such future basis on which to build stability and a peace in this area for the world.

In the present Near East situation there is lamentable injustice, compounded by the past errors of every single people and nation now involved, including those of the Western Atlantic community and historical Christendom. For almost twenty years over a million dispossessed Arab refugees have borne most of the injustice wrought in the 1948-49 Arab- Israeli struggle. They have been cruelly exploited.

Forgotten by most of the world, they have been kept alive in misery by a United Nations dole, largely provided by the United States. Most Americans in 1967, ignorant or indifferent to this great injustice, have no basis for understanding Arab bitterness and intransigence. Now after another war there is the threat that vast numbers of new refugees will be added to this long festering sore of humanity in the Near East.

To make some progress toward political justice, some solution of the refugee problem, and peace we urge our Government to press with vigor to ward the application of the following principles to the resolution of the Near East crisis.

1. The arbitrament of disputes by armed force, especially by massive main force must be condemned and resisted. It is no long-term favor to the Arabs or Israel to countenance resort to force, provoked or unprovoked.

2. No disputant should be allowed to retain peoples or territories acquired by force, nor to displace peoples in order to consolidate territorial gains. In the interests of world peace, of the United States, and of all concerned, Israel should be required to withdraw to the borders of the armistice agreements.

3. No disputants should be allowed indefinitely to threaten a neighbor by force of arms and hence to provoke an armed conflict. The Arab states, in their own best long-term interests, should negotiate some modus vivendi to replace the unstable armistices.

4. Independence and territorial integrity of all countries should be respected and guaranteed by the United Nations and the superpowers, which in 1947-48 helped establish Israel
as a state. The United States Government should stand by the statements of four presidents over the last two decades, most recently by President Johnson, guaranteeing the independence and territorial

integrity of all nations in the Near East, applicable impartially to each.

Only by adherence to these principles and policies do we believe that world order and peace are possible. As President Eisenhower put it on February 20, 1957, following the previous outbreak of war in the Near East: "... If we agree that armed attack can properly achieve the purposes of the assailant, then we will have en-countenanced the use of force
as a means of settling international differences and gaining a nation advantages . . .

If the United Nations once admits that international disputes can be settled by using force then we will have destroyed the very foundation of the organization and our best hope for establishing a real world order."

We appeal to our Government to act on this declaration which we believe calls logically for vigorous support of the principles and policies herein set forth.

North Lawrence "Exploited"

To the Editor of Town Topics:

At last night's public hearing
on the New Amended Zoning Ordinance for Lawrence Township's Rural A, I listened to a number of very interesting remarks.

First, that this Zoning Ordinance is just part of a general development plan for the Rural A approved by the Township

Planning Board, which has been working on this plan since last March. However, the residents of Rural A have been given no clue as to what this
"general development plan"
consists of.

This New Amended Zoning Ordinance is the only part of the plan that has so far been divulged. Obviously the Planning Board feels it owes no consideration to the residents of Rural A.

Another remark was made that as far as taxes were concerned, it was the Southern end of the Township which carried North Lawrence. This distressed me deeply, as I had no idea North Lawrence was such a burden to the Township.

After all, it houses the Township's largest taxpayer, ETS, to the tune of $250,000, and I can assure the other residents of the Township that we too pay our taxes on time. After all, the 7% per year interest penalty is a great incentive to doing so.

One of the Committeemen stated that he felt that he had been elected to represent the "entire" Township, and further that reason would be in favor of the ordinance. It would seem to North Lawrence residents that they have been cut out of the "entire" Township, since their interests are neglected.

Obviously, North Lawrence is slated for exploitation by the governing bodies — our votes are negligible, and we are, judging by the above remarks a burden to them tax-wise, although we make very little demand on them for services. Since North Lawrence is of such little use to the Township, it might be of great benefit to it if North Lawrence joined another Township, which might find our votes, our taxes (however minute) and our open space more useful to them.

I would appreciate it greatly if Princeton Township would give serious thought to annexing us. If North Lawrence is to be exploited, I for one would prefer to have Princeton Township do it.

JAMIE ZAPOLSKI: A year later, the investigation continues.

Topics Of The Town
MYSTERY CONTINUES
Zapolski Boy Still Missing.
 One sunny Saturday afternoon just about a year ago, 15-year-old Jamie Zapolski started out on his bicycle from Princeton to his home in Rocky Hill.

The route between the two towns winds a bit and is somewhat narrow at times, but it should have been a breeze for an experienced cyclist like Jamie with his brand new, 15-speed Tour de France Dynamax bike. But Jamie never made it home, and his disappearance, once thought by police to be just another case of a runaway boy, is still under investigation.

Jamie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bronislaw Zapolski, 18 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, feel he was the victim of foul play, but they still want to find out what happened to him. "We think somebody knows what happened to him and is walking around gloating to himself," says Mrs. Zapolski. She adds: "We no longer have any hope that Jamie is alive."

When Jamie first disappeared last July, there was more hope and, in fact, speculation that Jamie had taken off on a bicycle trip to Florida, something he had often talked of doing. Mr. and Mrs. Zapolski notified Princeton and state police, who sent out a missing persons alarm.

Bicycle Found. Police continued the investigation for weeks on the premise that Jamie was probably in Florida, but the very day the alarm went out a boy swimming in the Delaware and Raritan Canal near Griggstown found Jamie's bike. He reported it to Franklin Township police, who did not connect the bicycle with Jamie's disappearance.

The boy who found the bicycle returned to his home in Connecticut. In September, while visiting relatives in Griggstown, he read about Jamie in a newspaper and informed the Franklin Township police that the bike was the same one.

At this point, the investigation took on added emphasis. Scuba divers searched much of the canal for Jamie's body, but found nothing. Now police knew that Jamie had not gone to Florida, and the case became something more than just a runaway boy.

The last known person to see Jamie alive was Wesley Weissenberger, 23, who was staying at the home of relatives on Mt. Lucas Road. Mr. Weissenberger told police Jamie stopped to ask about a friend living nearby, and then rode on. At this point, he was only a mile from his home.

Overall supervision of the case is currently in the hands of Assistant Attorney General Joseph A. Hoffman. "The investigation is continuing even after a year," Mr. Hoffman said. "We still have some leads."

DOCTOR OPENS PRACTICE
 In Internal Medicine. Dr. Charles G. Clark has begun the practice of medicine here in association with Drs. William F. Haynes Jr. and W. Pepper Constable in the Medical Arts Building, 253 Witherspoon Street. He has been admitted to the Princeton Hospital and Dental Staff as an associate in the Department of Internal Medicine.

Born in Allentown, Pa., Dr. Clark is a University of Pennsylvania graduate of Franklin and Marshall College and was awarded his doctor of medicine degree four years later by the Medical School. He completed five years of internship at Philadelphia General Hospital, holding in 1966 a fellowship in gastroenterology.

Dr. Clark, his wife and their two children live at 15 Southern Way. He has been accepted as a member of the Mercer County Medical Society.

MUSIC TOUR PLANNED
 By New School Staff. Frances Clark and the staff of the New School for Music Study will leave Sunday to present a study course for piano teachers in Chicago, Portales, New Mexico; and Washington, D.C.

They recently presented the course in Salzburg, Austria. The course in New Mexico will be held at Eastern New Mexico University and will be sponsored by the New Mexico Art Commission.

The course includes practical piano, keyboard theory, lesson planning, and study of teaching materials. The program opens with a concert by duo-pianists David Kraehnbuehl and Richard Chronister.

ART SHOW SPONSORED
 By Hamilton Jaycees. The second annual Hamilton Jaycee Amateur Art Show will be held from 12 noon to 5 p.m. August 6 on the grounds of Donnelly Memorial Hospital in Trenton.

There will be four divisions—oil, watercolors, pastel and sculpture—and two classes: adults and 17 and under. The show is open to any resident of Mercer County.

Entry blanks may be obtained by calling Nicholas Venanzi at 586-2433. The fee is 50 cents.

TRENTON MAN CHARGED
 In Prince Car Theft. Following a hearing last week in Montgomery Municipal Court, Kenneth Kaufman of Whitehorse-Mercerville Road, Trenton, was released on bail to await action by a Somerset County Grand Jury on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny.

Kaufman was charged with entering Prince Chevrolet on Route 206 in June and allegedly stealing a 1967 car valued at $3,312. A second suspect, John P. McLaughlin, same address, is presently an inmate at the — Continued on Next Page

WATCH YOUR WALLS

HARRIS

During the last few years, American home makers have been giving more attention to their walls than ever before. And those who don't - SIIOULD.

Many homes and apart-ments are furnished at-tractively and elegantly but suffer from a decorat-ing ailment known as "bareness of the walls."

This does not mean that walls should be cluttered, or that all bare wall spaces should be filled. It means that very often not as much time and thought has been given to decorating the walls as have been given to the rest of the room.

Needless to say, there are many ways to decorate walls. Wall paper, pictures, wall accessories, wall fixtures, mirrors, and draper-ies used over bare wall ar-eas are just a few of the ways.

The wall decor business is bigger than ever and the variety of items available for wall decoration is greater than ever. We invite you to browse around in our store for some ideas that you can use advantageously.

SURVEY UNDER WAY
For Historic Sites. The Borough-Township Historic Sites Commission is sponsoring a summer survey of some 150 buildings in Princeton. Architectural historian William Bassett is in charge.

He is studying and photographing domestic, commercial and industrial buildings and will not attempt to cover the town's major educational institutions.
"They've been pretty thoroughly studied," according to Mrs. Felton L. Gibbons, co-chairman of the Commission. "We'd like to know more about some of the other areas. Mr. Bassett is taking a close look at sections of town like the 'tree' streets, the John Street-Witherspoon Street area, the northwest corner of the Township and Cedar Grove."

A part-time instructor at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, Mr. Bassett has spent several summers doing architectural surveys similar to the Princeton study. He has recorded houses in Philadelphia for the Historical American Buildings Survey of the National Park Service. Last summer he collected data for a new edition of the HABS' New Jersey listings, which will be published shortly by the New Jersey Historical Society.

A Dartmouth graduate, he studied architecture at Syracuse University and transferred to the University of Pennsylvania where he received a master's degree in art history. He is now a doctoral candidate at Penn.

"I am primarily interested in evaluating the existing building," Mr. Bassett says, his desk stocked with 3x5 cards, maps and memoranda. "We are surveying Princeton in an environmental sense. . . . I want to record not only the outstanding examples, but the buildings that are typical of a particular era or neighborhood."

ecture he is finding here. The way people add on to their houses over the years is fascinating.

One of his sources is a 1784 sketch map of Princeton used by President Ezra Styles of Yale in locating the houses of the men he planned to call upon. Another is a military map of the area drawn in 1781 by a French officer, Louis-Alexandre Berthier. He also has an 1851-2 map of the Borough of Princeton and a 1905 "automobile" map of the town.

"We hope to come up with some discoveries," Mr. Bassett says. "We're looking for things that had non-domestic use and have been converted to domestic use. I'm also interested in houses typical of a particular period of Princeton's development — the houses on Bank Street, for instance."

When the survey is completed, the data will be tabulated and mapped. The results will be made available to the planning and zoning boards of both municipalities as well as to interested residents. The commission hopes that Mr. Bassett's findings will form the nucleus of an open and growing file, similar to that maintained by the Philadelphia Historical Commission — one

Mr. Bassett himself hopes that an in-depth study will be conducted later on, clued in by his summer survey. He is working out of an office furnished by the Historical Society of Princeton. CLINIC TO EXPAND
With $2 Million Program.

The Carrier Clinic in Belle Mead is completing plans for a $2 million building program which will increase its capacity from 120 to 200 beds.

New facilities will also be added for research, education and treatment of outpatients. The 57-year old hospital specializes in intensive short-term treatment of emotional illnesses.

A new admissions suite and medical offices for individual and group therapy are included in the plans. New classrooms and conference rooms will also be constructed for the hospital's teaching programs.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital will send student nurses to Carrier for psychiatric orientation and Rutgers University Medical School will send medical students as part of its sophomore year course in psychiatry.

Auditorium Included. Other additions will include comprehensive new occupational therapy and recreational therapy units, a gymnasium, auditorium and an interdenominational chapel. Fulmer and Bowers, 341 Nassau St. are the architects.

Dr. Sydnor B. Penick of Princeton, director of the Clinic's research program, notes that the expansion will accelerate research.

Last year Carrier admitted more than 1800 patients for an average stay of 24.7 days. Dr. Robert S. Garber directs a full-time staff of 11 qualified psychiatrists and 55 consultant physicians from nearby communities.

The Clinic is a contracting hospital of the New Jersey Blue Cross Plan and the Garden State Hospitalization Plan.

3 REQUESTS APPROVED
By Township Zoning Board.

The Township Board of Adjustment approved two lot variances and one special permit at its regular July meeting.

Harold L. Cross, 15 Morgan Place, and Peter Mark, 61 Wheatsheaf Lane, both received the board's okay for proposed additions on to their homes. As in the past six years, Mrs. Ruth Sharon was granted a permit to give art lessons in her home at 50 Deer Path.

The next meeting of the board is a special session called for Tuesday, August 8, at 7:30 p.m. to consider a variance needed to locate a new Princeton post office on North Harrison Street. Several of the area, represented by George Pelletier, are opposed to the proposal.

AUTO SHOW PLANNED

At New Hope. The 10th annual New Hope Automobile Show will be held August 12-13 at the Solebury High School grounds in New Hope, Pa.

GEZUNDHEIT!

Until very recently, hay fever sufferers looked forward with dread to soaring pollen counts. Today, however, with the aid of modern science and research, there are at least three medical approaches to controlling hay fever symptoms.

Many specialists prescribe the best-selling medications of our time: newer steroid drugs. The same preparations that bring relief to thousands of sufferers from rheumatism and other inflammatory diseases.

Anthistamines are also being used with much success. The third approach is called "desensitization," meaning that the patient is dosed in advance of the hay fever season with preparations actually containing the substance or substances to which he is allergic. This builds resistance against the time when he is fully exposed to the offending pollen or other substance.

Which ever method your doctor prefers, the medication delivers the relief in a form suited to your own particular needs. Not every hay fever sufferer can expect complete relief, but when better drugs come along you'll find them at The Thorne Pharmacy.

EIGHTEEN AT BAT
And Eighteen Strike-outs.
Bill Schilling of Engine No. 1
last week became the second pitcher in the history of the PBA League to pitch a no-hitter and strike-out every batter
he faced. Bill fanned all 18 Hook & Ladder batters to win easily, 20-0.

For Schilling it was first full game of the season, having been sidelined nearly all year with arm trouble. He was also a standout at the plate where he collected three hits. Bobby King had three plus four RBIs,
as he and Greg Kline connected for successive home runs. Kline and Ron Campbell
each had two hits.

No. 1 then maintained its one game lead when it defeated Post 76, 4-3, in a continuation of a six-inning game rained out earlier in the season. No. 1 scored the winning run on a pair of walks, an error and Simon Boccanfuso's single. Post 76 pitcher Tony Bailey and Ed Rickett homered for the losers.

With the final week of action
at hand, No. 1 needs only wins over its two remaining opponents — Elks and Post 76 — to clinch the championship.
Should it lose one, a playoff is a strong possibility as three teams are tied for second place.

Roma Eterna made it seven and eight in a row last week.
It walloped Hook & Ladder, 12-
4, as Larry Miller and Mark Richards combined for a four-hitter, striking out nine. Joe McGuinn, with a home run and two doubles and Mark Ellsworth, a pair of hits, led the attack. Scott Marsh, Andy Bolster and Dave McNamara were responsible for all the loser's hits.

When Mark Richards walked with the bases loaded in the last inning, it gave Roma a 5-4 win over Post 76. Richards tripped and Joe McGuinn homered for the winners. McGuinn also pitched a one-hitter but was plagued with wildness.

Tony Bailey of Post 76 allowed three hits—all for extra bases—and whiffed 11. Bobby Higgins was the lone Post 76 batter to solve McGuinn who struck out nine.

Mooney is Master of No. 1.
Engine No. 3 won both its outings for a share of second place. In a crucial game with the league leaders, John Mooney bested No. 1 for the third consecutive time, spinning a five-hitter for a 4-2 victory. He struck-out seven, rick Giamo and Brian Jefferies rapped two hits each for No. 3, while Dave

NO-HIT PITCHERS: Bobby King (left) of Engine Company
No. 1 and Kevin Tylus of the Eagles have chalked up no-hitters this season in the PBA Baseball League.

Harwood was two-for-three for the losers.

Although outhit six to three,
No. 3 blanked Eagles, 2-0, as Giamo was able to make a 2-run first-inning stand up.
Giamo fanned 11. Jimmy Bolster had two of No. 3's three hits.

Kevin Tylus had a single and triple for the Eagles and Dave Lichtenstein absorbed the loss.

The Elks, too, kept pace.
Breezy Boccanfuso pitched a four-hit, 4-0 shutout against the Eagles and Glenn Goethals fashioned a six-hitter against the Italian-American Sportsmen for an easy 7-1 triumph.
Boccanfuso led a seven-hit Elk attack, collecting three hits including a home run. George Barna, the losing pitcher, had two of the Sportsmen's six hits.

In a second division battle,
Post 76 outslugged the Sportsmen, 8-6. Earl McQueen went the distance for the winners and hit a single and triple.
Dane Coluccio and John Gianacaci had two hits each to lead the Sportsmen.

MacKENZIE HOLDS LEAD

As Second Half Starts. After the first week of play of the second half of the Windsor Babe Ruth League, MacKenzie is on top with a 2-1 mark.

MacKenzie bounced back from an opening loss to the Lions to defeat Lucar Hardware, 7-2, and Will's Shell, 6-

3. David Fry limited Lucar to four hits and received help at the plate from Rick Boykin, Joe Cimerola and J. B. Wright, who rapped out two hits apiece. Cimerola then scatted vetered four hits to earn that victory over Will's. Boykin went three-for-four.

Lucar won its opener behind the hitting and pitching of Joe DeMeglio who tossed a neat 2-0 shutout against Will's. Joe gave up only one hit—a single to Dong Everett—and struck out 10. In addition, he got the only two hits for Lucar, as errors led to both runs.

In another one-hitter, shortened to four innings because of darkness, Jeff Haring of the Lions stopped MacKenzie, 9-1.
He fanned nine, Dave Mansue's two hits led the Lions' attack.

In a contest in which errors
were more frequent than hits, Will's won its lone game by edging the Lions, 4-3. Jeff Wetterling of Will's allowed only two hits—singles by Rod Caldwell and Ricky Rogers. His counterpart, Marty Clark, was almost as effective. He was tagged for three hits, one each by Wetterling, Ferreri and Joe Cavanaugh.

Marilyn Walkey, a temporary Princeton resident who represented the Los Angeles Athletic Club, won the 200-meter butterfly event with a time of 2:37.2. The men's freestyle relay squad placed third in the 400 meter race in 3:50.0.

The team included Dave Myerberg, Jan Kubick, Pete Balleintine and Chip Levy. Myerberg, swimming his third 100-meter race of the day, clocked his leg in 55.9 seconds, qualifying to swim in the U.S. National Meet in late August.

Myerberg also placed sixth in the 100-meter freestyle and seventh in the 200-meter freestyle. Levy, anchorman on the relay quartet, also placed fourth in the 300-meter freestyle.

Jan Kuick took third in the 100-meter backstroke in 1:05.2. Kubick also won the consolation finals in the 200-meter backstroke with a time of 2:23.9.
Other Princeton swimmers who qualified for the Eastern Championships on a basis of times recorded in previous meets were Bob Meusel, Bill Crell and Jane Fremon. All are members of the sophomore class at Princeton High School.

Our birthday gift to you....
The Princeton Portfolio

Fifty years ago, in 1917, Princeton was a much different town, rustic and small. That was the town that watched the formation of the Princeton Building and Loan. Since that time, the Building and Loan, now the Princeton Savings and Loan, has served it's community and grown with it.

It seems fitting that we should celebrate our fiftieth birthday with a gift to Princetonites about Princeton. The gift we chose reflects our town because for half a century that has been our sole interest.

Stop in soon and allow us to present you with a copy of the "Princeton Portfolio". It contains a series of long-ago Princeton photographs, antique tinted and ready for framing.

While you're here, spend a few minutes browsing over the Historical Society's display of many more old time photos. The display is in our lobby and is open to all. See you soon.

ships last week to take first place with 122 points, 70 points ahead of the second place team.

The swimmers amassed two individual first places, setting new records in both; three relay firsts, two of them new records; five second places, three thirds, three fourths and nine fifths. Pine Brae Country Club's delegation returned with one first, two seconds, four thirds, a fourth and two fifths, adding up to a team score of 49.

The River Road winners included Martha Lasley who won the 50-yard freestyle for 11 and 12-year old girls in 28.0, breaking the record set by Jane Fremont in 965. Miss Fremont, however, was still very much in the competition. She set a new record for the same distance in the 13 and 14-year old division with a time of 26.7.

The first place relay teams were the boys' 10 and under group, consisting of Jerry Mc-

Second place winners included Peggy Jabay, who broke a record for the 100 yard backstroke in 1:14.0. Chuck Hector was second in the boys' 11 and 12 year old boy's 50 yard backstroke. Carrie Bolster's time of 29.8 was good enough for second in the girls' 13 and 14 year old 50-yard freestyle, and Dan Golden was second in the 15 to 17 year old boys' 100 yard freestyle in 55.6.

The top performance of the Pine Brae swimmers belonged to the first place girl's 10 and under relay team of Margaret Jillson, Jenny Hartshorne, Elizabeth Corio and Carol McGrath. Margaret Jillson earned a second place in the 10 and under girls' freestyle, and the 15 to 17 year old girls' relay team of Debbie Jillson, Wynne Jillson, Jackie Morgan and Gail Grazel also placed second.

At 2:30, the group will embark on a 14-mile auto tour to the three Stout ancestral homes. The tour will loop over the Southland Mountains and return to the church.

The tour will include the home of Col. Joseph Stout which was built in 1752 on the farm where his father became the first settler in Hopewell. The Stouts will also visit Young Cemetery on the Werts-ville-Montgomery Road where most of the family is buried.

SCHOLARS SEE SHORTAGE

Of Papyrologists. Princeton University's Summer Institute of Papyrology is working to combat a critical occupational shortage in one of the world's smallest and most specialized professions.

According to Prof. John A. Hanson of the Princeton classics department, there are fewer than ten active papyrologists in the U.S., of whom only two devote their full time to papyri.

At the same time, the world's papyrus collections contain hundreds of possibly important documents which remain undiscovered because of the difficulty of translation and the shortage of translators.

A papyrologist's job is to decipher, transcribe and translate writing on an ancient material called papyrus, which was generally used before the introduction of paper in the eighth century.

Many papyri contain versions of the Greek and Roman classics which are more accurate than the ones generally known. Even routine documents, such as letters and business records, are valuable to scholars of ancient times because they indicate what life was like in that period.

To remedy the shortage, Princeton has drawn twelve graduate students from around the country to work for six weeks on the University papyrus collection which Prof. Hanson estimates is among the four best in the country. The Institute is directed by two British scholars, Prof. Eric G. Turner of the University of London and Dr. John R. Rea of Oxford.

The difficulties which the budding papyrologist must surmount are many. The tattered, documents are frequently carelessly written without breaks between words. Furthermore, the language used is frequently a colloquial version vastly different from the Greek and Latin taught in schools.

The participants spend the mornings in a seminar with the teachers and then spend most of the rest of their waking hours pouring over papyri. The works under scrutiny fall into two categories, literary works and documents. The literary material includes fragments of books by Thucydides, Plato and a leaf from a Greek copy of the Book of Psalms.

TO STUDY PART TIME

For Master's Degree. Qualified employees of industrial organizations in the Princeton area will be able to study at Princeton University for a master's degree in engineering on a half-time basis in a new program.

Part-time students will take two years instead of one to complete the degree requirements. They can study half-time during two consecutive semesters for two years or full-time for one semester in each of two years.

Non-resident students will be — Continued on Next Page

Obituaries

Herbert W. Mershon, 47, of 5 Erdman Avenue, died at his home on July 30. A lifelong Princetonian, he had been an engineer with the Pennsylvania Railroad for the past 26 years. Mr. Mershon was a member of Trinity Episcopal and had formerly belonged to Princeton Post 76, American Legion. He also held membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. During World War II, he served with the Army Engineering Corps.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Watson Mershon; two daughters, Miss Carole L. and Miss Arlene K., both of Princeton; two brothers, Raodolph E. of Cranbury and Charles W. of Bordentown; three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kostue of Princeton Junction; Mrs. Virginia Millington of Hightstown and Mrs. Ann Woodward of Augusta, Ga.

The service will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Arthur J. Lockhart officiating. Interment will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Louise A. Gunther, 68, of 58 Leigh Avenue, died July 30 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Trenton, she was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Widow of Karl Gunther, she is survived by two brothers, Charles W. Konietzko and William H. Konietzko, both of Princeton; two sisters, Mrs. Pauline Briggman of Princeton and Mrs. Mary Russell of Philadelphia.

The service will be held Thursday at 2 at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, pastor emeritus of St. Andrew's, officiating. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Miss Esther T. VanKirk, 86, died July 27 at Merwick. Born in Rosedale, she was a member of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church and of the Lawrenceville Grange 170.

Surviving are her niece, Mrs. Martin V. Higgins of Kingston; and a nephew, J. VanKirk Silcox of Princeton.

The service was held at the Rosedale Chapel with the Rev. Samuel S. Bizzo officiating. Interment was in Lawrenceville Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

James A. O'Donnell, 73, of 55 Main Street, Kingston, died July 28 after a long illness.

A native of Philadelphia, Mr. O'Donnell had owned the Union Line Hotel in Kingston for 31 years until his recent retirement. He was a member of Kingston Volunteer Fire Co. (No. 1) and Nassau Aerie 2732 FOE, Princeton.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Effie B. O'Donnell; a daughter, Mrs. J. Richard Bevinetto of South Orange; two sons, James A. Jr. of Levittown and William J. of Kingston; a brother John O'Donnell and a sister, Mrs. Harry Jones, both of Philadelphia; nine grandchildren and a great-grandson.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Paul's Church. Burial was in the parish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

STATE PLAYOFFS HERE In Little League Baseball. The final round of the State Championship in the Senior Division of Little League Baseball will be held Saturday at 2 on Clarke Field. There is no admission charge.

The opponents will be the winners of games between the Wayne American nine and North Bergen Northern and Toms River vs. West Deptford. They were scheduled for Wednesday at Madison.

Saturday's winner will represent New Jersey in the Eastern Regional championships. They will be held next week in Rochester, N. Y.

RED TOPS BLUE, 12-7. Leete: 5 Goals, 4 Assists. Led by Dave Leete, who scored five goals and four assists, Red defeated Blue, 12-7, last week at Marquand Park in the Summer Lacrosse League. "Pepper" Pettit had three goals and two assists and Bob Nichol, four goals.

Bill Hufham, four goals and one assist, was most effective for the losers. Adding single tallies were Coley Donaldson, Jim Snow and John Steiger. Donaldson and Scott Purvis were also credited with one assist each.

Navy remained unheated with an 11 to 4 decision over Green. The big three for the victors were Gordon Hart, four goals and two assists, and Ron Palevec and Bill Hunter three each. Jim Pettit scored one goal.

Holt Murray accounted for three of Gordon's four goals with John Marchitell adding the fourth. Terry Marzoni had an assist.

Fairlawn, Anyone? The Fairlawn Recreation Department has invited Princeton's summer lacrosse players to participate in two games on Sunday, one starting at 10 a.m. for boys who were in high school this past year and a second at noon for college-age players. Hawley Waterman, director of the summer league, emphasized that all players must let him know this Thursday night if they want to accept Fairlawn's offer.

The decision to go will be based on Thursday night's response, he said. Players would have to supply their own transportation to Fairlawn.

"PICTURE" BIBLES USED
 In Princeton Research. Art historian Francois Bucher of Princeton University is now completing a two volume work based on two 12th Century Spanish "picture" Bibles, one of which is thought to have been commissioned in penance by the King of Navarre, Sancho the Strong.

By combing scenes from the two Bibles, one found in Amiens, France, and the other in Harburg Castle near Aogsburg, Germany, Dr. Bucher has been able to produce a nearly complete biblical history in illustrated form as seen through the eyes of the medieval artist.

Dr. Bucher, associate professor of art and archaeology, came across the Bibles after a "lucky accident" put him to a considerable amount of academic detective work. On a Guggenheim Fellowship in Europe in 1902, he visited the Amiens public library in search of another 12th Century manuscript. He did not find that manuscript, but in the course of studying all of the late 12th and early 13th Century manuscripts, he came upon the first of the picture-bibles — a bulky, almost cubic parchment manuscript.

He set it aside, noting only that it contained certain unusual characteristics, but these characteristics continued to intrigue him after he left Amiens. Through a catalogue, he found that the Bible was in fact listed, but had escaped the notice of art historians. Dating from 1197 and done in Pamplona, Spain, the Amiens Bible had been commissioned by the then King of Navarre, Sancho the Strong.

Successful Search. Dr. Bucher later found that a similar Bible was known to have been in the possession of the family Prince Oettingen-Wallerstein of Germany at one time, and was believed to have been sold at an auction in the early 1930's. Attempting to trace the Bible, he wrote the prince — whose art collection and library are housed in Harburg Castle — and discovered that the manuscript was still owned by the prince. Dr. Bucher established upon study of the Bible at Harburg that it was from the same period, done in the same city and by the same master artist as the Amiens Bible.

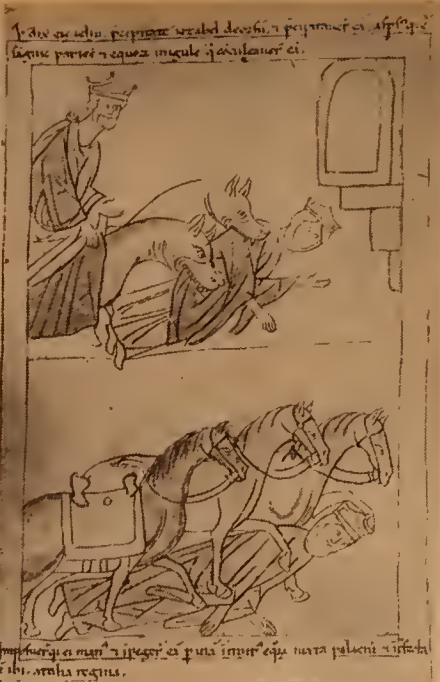

From the study of the Amiens work, Professor Bucher believes that the Amiens Bible was commissioned as a "penance" to the Church. On two occasions, Sancho had been excommunicated for his dealings with the Moors.

In one instance, he secretly negotiated with the great Moorish sultan, Yakub, at the time when Sancho's aid was sought for a Christian alliance against the Moors. Also, ancient manuscripts record Sancho's love for and marriage to a Moslem princess. Mixed marriages between Moslem and Christian were not infrequent at the time, but were frowned upon by the Church, particularly in the case of a ruler.

Crime and Punishment. An almost legendary figure of his role portions (seven feet tall) King Sancho commissioned one Petrus Ferrandri, his chancellor and archdeacon of the cathedral, to supervise the work on his Bible. The chancellor used the occasion to preach to Sancho — time and again the Bible shows the terrible consequences of immoral action.

In one illustration, the evidence suggests that Sancho inserted his own commentary. In an Old Testament scene in Numbers 25:1-8, two lovers of different faiths were caught in embrace and impaled on a spear by the high priest. Sancho himself may have "killed" the high priest in effigy by drawing in a small sword. The sword is of the 12th Century Spanish design, plays no role in the Old Testament account, and is obviously by a hand other than the artist's.

"The one Bible is not a slavish copy of the other," Profes-

DEATH SCENES from a 12th Century Spanish "picture Bible" which forms the basis for the two-volume work now being completed by Dr. Francois Bucher, associate professor of art and archaeology at Princeton. At top, the death of Jezebel, the Phoenician princess who brought the worship of Baah into Israel; (bottom) the death of her daughter, Athaliah, Baal-worshipping queen of Judah.

Dr. Bucher comments, "as has often been assumed in medieval art. The artist displayed creativity, improvising and creating different scenes in nearly half the cases."

The Amiens Bible contains 857 illustrations while there are 975 in the Harburg version. Dr. Bucher's work will have a total of 576 plates, in color and in black and white, drawn about equally from the two Bibles. His two volume work is expected to be published next year by the Yale University Press.

BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNED
 For Church of Christ, Princeton Church of Christ will hold its annual vacation Bible school beginning this Monday through Friday at the Littlebrook School. Classes will run from 10 to 11:45 a.m.

Last year an average of 175 children attended the session, and this year the school hopes for 200. Classes will be held for two year olds through 12th graders. There will also be a special ladies class, with a nursery available for those mothers who would like to attend.

Teachers and their classes include: Sally Rogers, nursery; Zelma Boothe, 2 year olds; Dana Carrington, 3 year olds; Laquita Stone, 4 year olds; Elaine Schmidt and Madeline Deschon, kindergarten; Rosemary Brown, and Mary Hensley, first grade; Betsy Kennedy, second grade; Alice Mizchke, third grade; Ellen Sizemore, fourth grade; James Henry, fifth and sixth grades; Odie Benson, 7th-12th grades; and Mary Kellett, ladies.

Those wishing to enroll should call 921-7654 or 297-0670.

QUARTET TO PERFORM
 At Westerly Road Church. The Melody-Aires, a brass quartet from one of the nation's best known Bible schools, the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, will perform at the Westerly Road Church this Thursday at 8 p.m.

The group is touring 17 states in the Midwest and East, holding sacred concerts in churches and at Bible conferences. Ray Matter, a post graduate missionary radio student from Wheaton Ill., plays the lead trumpet in the quartet. Rounding out the foursome are Larry Boyll, second trumpet; Dennis Monkemeyer, first trombone; and Ted Lenox, second trombone.

MT. PISGAH HOST
 To Fellowship Convention. Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church is hosting the New Brunswick District Church School and Allen Christian Endeavor Youth Fellowship convention. The two-day program will end Thursday.

Activities scheduled for Wednesday included registration at 6 p.m. and a worship service at 7:30. On Thursday there will be workshops for pastors, superintendents and teachers and four youth workshops.

The convention theme is "What is Our Mission in the Church School?" The Rev. Marion F. Stokes Sr. is host minister.

BULLETIN NOTE
 The Rev. H. Dana Fearson III will conduct the 9:30 morning worship service at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church this Sunday. There is Sunday school for children through kindergarten age and infant and toddler care provided.

NOT TOO BIG, NOT TOO SMALL but just right for the family that needs that intown location (West side), room to swing that cat and not too many bedrooms. The formal living room with fireplace, dining room, study, guest room and bath and modern kitchen take care of one generation very well while that other one can spread out nicely in a large, inviting family room that opens onto the delightful back yard. The second floor has three bedrooms and two more tiled baths.
 Other practicals include lots of attic storage, a two-car attached garage, pleasant open porch overlooking the handsomely landscaped lot and an ample utility-laundry room. Offered at

SHOULD YOU WAIT FOR YOUR HUSBAND TO BE PROMOTED SOMEDAY? OR CAN YOU HELP NOW?

A man often trades advancement for security. HE MAY BELIEVE THAT'S WHAT YOU WANT. He wants you to have that new suit. A second car. A real vacation. But the budget only stretches so far. So he keeps on working and hoping.

Ooesn't it sometimes hurt just a little to see him work so hard and not get ahead? YOU CAN HELP HIM!

Show that you have real confidence in him. Make sure he knows you wouldn't mind a bit if he took a sabbatical for new horizons. Tell him the truth. you'd kind of enjoy the adventure.

Suggest that he call for an appointment to discuss his future with SNELLING & SNELLING.

We have openings. Your husband could take his pick, locally or in a new city. And you should help him make the decision.

"WHERE THE EMPHASIS IS ON SERVICE"

NEW COLONIAL . . . on "Hunter Hill," with a view of the beautiful Hopewell Valley, and a brook and woods in back. The house has 4 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths. Brand new, the owner has added central air-conditioning, double GI self-cleaning oven & stove, breakfast bar in kitchen, a patio, more tiling in bathrooms, many extra appliances. Here is a home to enjoy . . . on 1 1/2 acres of high land. (sole agent) $44,500

CHARMING . . . in a wooded area, this fine brick home has knotty pine paneled living room with fireplace, large kitchen, laundry, many big closets, screened porch with slate floor, 3 bedrooms and large tiled bath. Upstairs: huge paneled room with bar & 1/2 bath. (sole agent) $46,500

WOODED . . . against an almost rural background of lofty trees, this long, low white house enjoys as lovely a setting as any in the Township. 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. All rooms on one floor. Big paneled recreation room with fireplace, and powder room, in basement. Living room (15x27) with fireplace, 14x16 dining room, modern kitchen with dishwasher and disposal, sunroom and a beautiful flagstone patio. Master bedroom has two over-sized, walk-in closets. (sole agent) $64,500

MERCER STREET . . . this property, with its huge trees and beautiful landscaping, is located in one of Princeton's most sought-after neighborhoods. A charming Cape Cod, with white clapboards and black shutters, it has hall, large living room (31x27) with fireplace, dining room, very up-to-date kitchen, powder room, and master bedroom and bath on first floor. Upstairs: 3 bedrooms and bath. (sole agent) $72,500

EDGERSTONE . . . behind a screen of evergreens and with woods in the background, this fine brick residence is located in one of the Western Section's choicest areas. Center hall, living room with fireplace, dining room, library, powder room, very modern kitchen with breakfast space, master bedroom and bath. Upstairs: 4 bedrooms & bath. Downstairs: paneled recreation room with bar, powder room, guest bedroom. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Central air-conditioning. Heated swim pool. (sole agent) $85,000

PERFECT SETTING . . . In a grove of beautiful shade trees, and surrounded by a velvety lawn, this lovely home is much more than a place to live — it offers you a new way of life. Central air-conditioning is one feature. Another is the indoor swimming pool, heated and filtered, in a separate wing. A third is the attached guest cottage, with living room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms and bath. Outdoors there is a huge, flagstone terrace. Indoors, entry hall, living room with fireplace, study (or 4th bedroom), large modern kitchen and separate pantry, paneled family room with hidden bar in a closet, spacious dining room, and bedroom & bath. Upstairs: master bedroom with dressing room and powder room; another big bedroom with a vast cedar closet, and bath. (sole agent) $125,000

Many more fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.

TV REPAIR
 AT YOUR SERVICE

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

Do us a service . . . call 921-8500 today so that we may serve you!

A WELCOME DECEPTION — The classic Cape Cod exterior of this well-built Township house hides much more room than you could possibly imagine — out of 40 windows, only five face the front. Pearson-built with slate roof and plaster walls, the first floor includes a living room 15 x 26 with fireplace, a unique enclosed Florida room with a second fireplace, a fully equipped kitchen with built-in breakfast area, two large bedrooms, and tile bath. Upstairs, two more spacious bedrooms, a tile bath, plus an interesting dormitory room. Full basement; two-car garage. A half-acre lot with line trees, shrubs, and privacy. All within walking distance of schools and the new recreation center. $57,500

A REMEMBRANCE OF THINGS PAST — Remembering Rockingham and Washington, the builder of this two-story Colonial in nearby Rocky Hill added some period details, such as the narrow clapboards in the front and the hipped roof. The floor plan, however, is designed for today's active family. A central entrance hall leads to a private step-down living room. The study, with its beamed ceiling, also off the hall, is paneled and has one wall in bookcases. There is a separate dining room with sliding glass doors to the outside. The kitchen is fully equipped and has a bright breakfast area and adjoins a first floor laundry. Upstairs, there are four bedrooms and two baths. Attached two-car garage; basement. All on one acre of extremely fine lawn. Now offered for resale by a transferred owner at $39,000

WESTERN BOROUGH — Fresh on the market, a well planned medium-sized Colonial in the Elm Road area. Entry hall, living room with fireplace, separate dining room, study, convenient kitchen, large new family room, maid's room and bath. On the second floor, three bedrooms, two tile baths. A rear covered porch looks over an especially fine back yard with many trees and shrubs. $70,000

A TOWERING SHAG BARK HICKORY shades this contemporary flavored one-story house in a quiet Western Section location. Flawlessly designed for retirement with ample room but no excess to care for or clutter up. The floor plan includes a central entrance hall, a rear living room with fireplace and Cathedral ceiling and a view through glass doors to a lovely green rear yard, a separate dining room, a fully equipped kitchen, and an adjoining utility room or study. Three bedrooms, all with good wall space and closets, two baths. Two-car garage. All windows are Thermopane. Available September 1. Newly priced at $52,500

Historical or Hysterical?

Either way, you still will be happy with this marvelous old Colonial. Located in quaint Griggstown, the property has about four acres with many fine old trees, 400' of frontage on the canal, a sub-dividable lot. If you are wild about antiques and interested in the rare, the house retains much of its revolutionary-day charm, but modern renovations make it completely liveable. Four bedrooms, kitchen, living room and dining room (both with fireplaces) and library give lots of space for the larger family. Good barn on the premises also. $12,500
